

2.2.1 E-business for small businesses

Putting up a Web site with even a single page can have great positives on your business. Putting the URL of the page on your Ryze profile or on a profile on one of the other networking sites can attract traffic and potential business. The key here is to use the right words in the first few lines so search engines can pick them up when someone types in a keyword that matches what you have to offer.

Popularising your Web site can be done in many ways. One obvious way, apart from those mentioned above, is by e-mailing existing and potential contacts. Remember not to spam the recipients. Just a gentle reminder is what is needed.
