

Choosing the codec to be used for conversion in iTunes

Setting the codec options in iTunes

Choosing the song to be converted in iTunes

After adding the file, we will need to set the settings for encoding this file. For this go to Edit-Preferences and in the new window that opens click on the Importing Tab. Here you will see that, similar to Windows Media Player, above there are a lot of codec options including Apple Lossless for you to encode your .WAV file with. You will also see a WAV file encoder that will let you encode your Audio CD tracks to WAV files using iTunes. Next, we choose the