

Frozen Bubble

Bubble Trouble

If you're familiar with PopCap's arcade games, you'll immediately recognise this as a Dynamite clone—though it's hard to decide who copied who!

The gameplay is simple, you get different coloured bubbles to shoot up at a formation of other bubbles. The aim is to clear away all the bubbles by making formations of three or more bubbles, directly touching each other. So if there's a cluster of two or more same coloured bubbles on the ceiling, and you hit it with a bubble of the same colour, they all drop. You repeat this until the ceiling is cleared.

To make things harder, the ceiling keeps dropping at regular intervals (depending on the amount of turns played), so you have to use a little strategy and thinking to drop all the bubbles as fast

A very addictive game, Frozen Bubble is free and will keep you entertained for hours
