

2.4 The Showdown: GSM vs. CDMA

The Dream

In technology circles, it has long been known that CDMA beats the pants off GSM. It is, to state it in no uncertain terms, the technology of the future. Even third-generation GSM networks will use CDMA-based technologies.

Why?

Because CDMA is faster.

Because CDMA is more secure.

Because connections on a CDMA network will never get dropped when moving from cell to cell.

Because CDMA base-stations cover a larger area.
