

with any application on your system or if the file does not have an extension, you will be prompted to open the attachment or save it to disk. Select 'Save to disk' and click OK.

Using the Address Book

Contacts in your Outlook Express address book allow you to type in the name of your recipient on the 'To' or 'Cc' lines without having to type in the complete e-mail address. Outlook Express will insert the e-mail address when you send the message. To add a contact to your Outlook Express address book, click Tools > Address Book. Select the folder to which you want to add a contact. (You can create a new folder by clicking File > New Folder, then entering a name for the folder and clicking OK.) On the 'Name' tab, enter at least the first name, last name and e-mail address for the contact. Check "Send e-mail using plain text only." You may add information on the other tabs if desired. Click 'Add' and 'OK'.

Creating a new contact

You can create a group in the address book with multiple e-mail addresses. You can then use the group name instead of typing in individual e-mail addresses when sending a message. To add a group in the address book, click File > New Group. Enter the group name. In the 'Name' box, type in the name of the first contact in the group, then in the 'E-mail' box, type in the complete e-mail address of the first contact and then click 'Add'. Repeat the procedure to add names and e-mail addresses for each person in the group until you are done.

Creating a new group