

The Layer Funda

Layers in Photoshop help by keeping separate the many different elements that go into making a composite image, so you can easily edit different elements and hide them when they're not in use.