

Get Your Music

Yes, we know most of you get your music from CDs burnt on your friends' computers, or directly from their hard disks! This is illegal! According to several sources, a CD is to be treated "like a book"—only one person should have it at any time. So sharing CDs is not illegal, but recording them to your hard disks as MP3s and then copying them from PC to PC is.