

Getting Started

Type “web hosting” into Google and you get about 800 million hits. So who do you choose? You’ll be able to figure out once you’re through with this chapter! There are two aspects to getting your Web site online: registering a domain name and hosting the site on a server. This chapter will take you through the various aspects of domain registrations and hosting to help you make an informed decision.