

Microsoft FrontPage

When it comes to Web design, there's one program that's very popular and easy to use—Microsoft FrontPage. This tool is part of most MS Office installations, and as a result, is one of the most used software for Web design. It's simple, makes for a decent design tool, has loads of templates—and gets the job done in no time!