

9.5 Concluding Remarks

For the extrovert, Orkut is an excellent opportunity to make friends the world over. For the introvert, Orkut offers an opportunity to befriend folks selectively on one's own terms. For those seeking business contacts, Orkut can play facilitator for interstate or international opportunities. The site has a comprehensive help system that makes it easy to use all the features on offer.

Un-moderated content in community forums are a put-off. Orkut, which incorporates an e-mail system, could have offered Orkut e-mail IDs like `xyz@orkut.com`, so that members could have used that as the sole e-mail ID—unlike now, where a member cannot receive messages other than those sent from Orkut in their Orkut message box, necessitating the use of an external email ID like Gmail or Yahoo! for other mails. Finally, chatting could have been incorporated, and this is probably in the pipeline.
