

There isn't any security against spammers and flammers, but the new Google Groups Beta lets you mask e-mail addresses. Unlike other groups sites (like that of Yahoo!), Google Groups lacks polls and attachments to messages, but it is still in beta, so improvements are no doubt in the pipeline.