

- Admit mistakes and correct them promptly.
(This can come from basic humility.)
- Explain each blog's mission and invite dialogue with the public over its content and the bloggers' conduct.
- Disclose conflicts of interest, affiliations, activities and personal agendas.
(This is important so readers can put your content in context.)
- Deny favoured treatment to advertisers and special interests and resist their pressure to influence content. When exceptions are made, disclose them fully to readers.
(That's what black hat blogging is all about.)
- Be wary of sources offering information for favours. When accepting such information, disclose the favours.
(Ditto.)
- Expose unethical practices of other bloggers.
(If you're sincere enough.)
