

issues that really rock. The site also has very vociferous readers who are not afraid to post long comments in response to what they read.

2.1.6 Digital Inspiration

(<http://labnol.blogspot.com/>)

Digital Inspiration is the Indian poster child for raking in the cash from blogging. If you are skeptical about the earning potential from blogging or are seriously considering taking up blogging as a living, you only have to look at this blog. Amit Agarwal is a technophile who has turned his passion into a successful blog. Featured on CNN-IBN, it is rumored that Amit's blog earns him in lakhs per month. The slick professionalism of his blog is testament enough to that. According to the site statistics Digital Inspiration had over 12 million page views in 2006. It is also in the top 500 on Technorati. All these trivia aside, Digital Inspiration is necessary for anyone who wants to keep abreast of the latest tech news.