

Biology

Biology class can be fun—and no, we don't mean giggling at all the diagrams. It's also pretty unforgiving at exam-time—fudge the name of an enzyme or relocate body parts in a diagram and you'll be looking at generously awarded zeroes on your paper. If your textbooks are boring (of course they are), you can turn to the Web for a more fun way to learn about Life, the Universe and Everything.