

6.6.7 Secure Online Key Backup

This is an online service provided by Microsoft which allows you to store either the BitLocker recovery password, or the Encrypting File System recovery certificate on a free Microsoft web site called digital locker. You can then retrieve your password or certificate from this Web site from any computer that is connected to the Internet.