

section. To get help and access to practical tools that will help you start and grow your business in a structured manner visit the Entrepreneur's Tool

Box section. This section contains a wealth of information regarding how to start, finance, grow and manage your business. Click on each topic to get access to Web resources, books and other tools that will help you get you up and running and keep you there. With the strong focus on the budding entrepreneur People That Click maybe the first resource that any savvy entrepreneur should consider.

Entrepreneurial Skills Analysis

5.5 Sharing Business Travel Plans—PairUp.com

PairUp tries to address a unique problem that people attending events and conferences face. When attending an event, people tend to miss opportunities to meet with peers and colleagues in the same industry. PairUp promises to make that a thing of the past.

Business travelers who travel frequently often miss opportunities to meet with peers and colleagues because they did not know that they were in the same area for the same event at the same time. Using PairUp, members share their travel plans with people whom they wish to discover and connect

Road warriors catch up with colleagues and friends