

A Web page embedded with interactive data from Zoho Sheet

Also, graphs cannot get imported as far as we could see; however, there is a snazzy tool for creating graphs from within the application itself. Again, not very easy to use at first but once you spend

You can create charts for your Web page some time familiarising yourself with the functionality, you should be able to get out the graphs as you like.

What's cool about this tool is that you can
