

ally, only to AT&T subscribers in the US. Featuring the Apple patented multi-touch technology, the iPhone is all touchscreen and features menu controls that you can use two fingers to navigate through. No word still on availability in India of the iPhone, sadly.

The Apple iPhone

End 2007 / Early 2008: Let's see!

We may have only crossed the one billion PC mark in 2002, but doubling that achievement will come a lot faster. The first one billion may have taken over 30 years, but the second billion will take less than 6 years. Because it's a near-future event, we can't give you specifics, but we do know that it will happen by the end of 2007 or sometime in early 2008, depending on how many people buy PCs now. Now don't you go about ruining all the fun by postponing that buy-a-PC plan!