

Security

Fact: as of now, if you install Windows on a new computer and just get online—with neither anti-virus nor a firewall installed—your computer will most likely be infected by a virus within minutes.

That should get you into the spirit of reading this chapter!