

TATA Sky to PC!

Q Can I record Tata Sky channel programs on my PC using a TV tuner card?

A You can do it by connecting the output from STB to your TV tuner's AV-in.

You can capture channels using the TV tuner card by connecting using AV or RF code, one channel at a time.

Note: You cannot use the advanced features of the TV Tuner software though, to record from a particular channel at a certain time when you're out, or to get the TV Tuner to change the STB to the right channel on it's own. With a lot of manual intervention, however, it's perfectly manageable.
