

Please help me for removing the older version of Nero from Vista and install Nero 8.

Sujith Sugathan

A The program may not have been uninstalled completely, so a few files and registry keys are bound to still be on your Windows installation. Use a registry cleaning utility such as CCleaner to uninstall the remainder of the program and clear out your previous versions of Nero. If that doesn't work, first backup your registry and then try searching for Nero registry keys and remove them manually. Also, ensure that the Nero installation folder from your PC has been removed.

DLLs Missing

Q I have a 200-GB hard drive, 1.8 GHz Intel Pentium dual core processor and 2 GB RAM on a 945GC-M7 TE main board with XP SP2 installed in it. Of late, I installed Comodo firewall and Ashampoo antivirus. Yesterday, I ran a full system scan and deleted all the viruses showed in the scan. Now the system is taking ages to startup. It also shows ardpjdrk.dll and tfqxbmbnf.dll as missing.

Manish Hemnani

A When you installed the Ashampoo antivirus and scanned your system for viruses, it removed the virus files but the links to these files still exist. Use CCCleaner to remove all unwanted registry keys and links.

Copy Error

Q I'm trying to copy a movie CD on my PC, but an error occurs as "Invalid MS-DOS Function". The CD is fine, because no error occurs while copying it on other PCs. Please help me.

I use Windows XP2, 512 MB RAM, P4 Intel processor configuration

Amit Singh

A Certain discs, especially movie discs come with copyright protection, which will not allow you to make copies of it. The Invalid MS-DOS function error message could be the result of that protection. It could also be a problem with your drive not being compatible and