

Microsoft Office

Few of us can imagine life without Microsoft Office. Even fewer of us can afford not to work faster with it. Even though the new ribbon makes accessing features a lot easier, shortcuts are a much better way of going about business. As you'll see, the ribbon even makes keyboard access easier for us.

2.1. General Office Shortcuts

These are applicable across all Office applications. To use the ribbon with the keyboard, just hit [Alt]. Office will show you shortcut keys for every tab, and every utility under those tabs. If you're unwilling to remember more shortcuts, just this one feature is enough to accelerate your work in Office.
