

The software listed in a sub category, is also listed in the main category. This means that software listed in Sound and Video > Burning Tools, will not be listed in Sound and Video along with other software listed in the Audio Player and Video Player categories.

Once you have homed in on software you want to install, click on the “install now” icon.

Given a choice of saving and opening, select open. This feature works differently in different browsers, depending on how the web

