

or burn the data on a DVD.

on Linux

.....

video editor for Linux. The interface is very simple. On the left hand side panel, you can add video to the stack, select insert or replace. For each object in the storyboard, you can set the start time, you will have to trim the video. If you have to use multiple clips of the same file many times, you can also add a few basic transition effects. Unfortunately, it is a bit of a pain in Kino.

