

just made on a per layer basis. Select all the passes that we created in the render settings and click the icon with down arrow that will get them in the Associated passes box.

We need to render this as a batch image to see the different passes. To do this, change your option in the MenuBox to Rendering, and go to Render > Batch Render. This will render out one single frame (In the render setting, we did not change the single frame to multiple frames) of each pass in the /CubeHouse/CubeHouse/images folder. After rendering, you can open the image in Maya's default fcheck and get the clip finalised.
