

We now should have an effect that looks like this...

But you'll notice that the particles are going on and on way past the base (where the emitter position is)

Based on your need, edit the lifetime to be the number of second you really want to see the particles...

Changing the Lifespan Mode from Live forever to Constant. This will then make use of the value.

Set at Lifespan. This value is set in seconds. In this example, we've set the lifespan to 2.
