

defining the section with a black border and gray background, and apply some padding.

```
/* Masthead */
#masthead {
padding:10px;
border:1px solid #000;
background-color:#CCC;
}
/* Footer */
#footer {
padding:10px;
border:1px solid #000;
background-color:#CCC;
```

The sections are clearly defined using CSS rules

```
}
```

The first step is to create the illusion of two columns by floating the sidebar in. First, the content ID rules are declared, virtually the same as the rules for masthead and footer except the background color. Identical rules are declared for the sidebar ID, with the crucial addition of `float:right`, which