

5.3.3 Frequently used commands

The following table shows some of the most commonly used commands in Speech Recognition.

To do this	Say this
Click any item by its name	Click File; Insert; View
Click any item	Click Recycle Bin; Click Libraries; Click file name
Double-click any item	Double-click Recycle Bin; Double-click Libraries; Double-click file name
Switch to an open program	Switch to Notepad; Switch to WordPad; Switch to program name; Switch application
Scroll in one direction	Scroll up; Scroll down; Scroll left; Scroll right
Show a list of applicable commands	What can I say?
Make the computer listen to you	Start listening
Make the computer stop listening	Stop listening
Ask for help	How do I do something?

For example, say “How do I install a scanner?” and a list of help topics is returned.

Dictation

These are commands for working with text. The following table shows commands for using Speech Recognition to work with text.

To do this	Say this
Insert a new line in the document	New line
Insert a new paragraph in the document	New paragraph
Insert a tab	Tab
Put the cursor before a specific word	Go to word
Put the cursor after a specific word	Go after word
Go to the start of the document	Go to start of document
Go to the end of the current document	Go to end of document
Select the word in the current document	Select word
Select the word range in the current document	Select word range; Select word through word
Select all text in the current document	Select all
Select the last text you dictated	Select that
Clear the selection on the screen	Clear selection
Delete the previous sentence	Delete previous sentence
Delete the next sentence	Delete next sentence
Delete the selected or last dictated text	Delete that