

- To share other libraries that you've created, follow these steps:
- Click the Start button, and then click your user name.
- Select the library you want to share, and then click on 'Share with' in the toolbar.

Sharing your libraries with other users on your homegroup

- Select the people you want to share with

For printer sharing, and Media streaming, see the corresponding sections in this Fast Track.

6.4.3 Security

As we mentioned, a homegroup is protected by a password. The HomeGroup feature initially provides a password, but you can change it later if you

Advanced sharing settings that Windows 7 provides making your life troublefree.