

WHAT IS GREEN TECHNOLOGY?

Lets start off slow with the basics and find out what all this “Eco” stuff is about

We are surrounded by technology and it has encompassed almost all aspects of our lives. A lot of this technology which has made our lives easier, has not been so charitable towards the environment. This is where Green Technology steps in and helps us in some way to protect our environment.

Green technology is a branch of technology that involves the development and application of products, equipment and systems that help in
