

TYPES OF E-COMMERCE WEBSITES

This chapter explores the different business models that are followed by e-commerce websites in India

E-commerce in India has come of age and has become a popular medium for consumers to buy a variety of products and services from brands and merchants. Today, e-commerce co-exists with modern retail and for the many that live outside the key metros; online shopping has given them access to brands that are not available in their city or town.
