

ONLINE CONSUMER PROTECTION

Should something go wrong with your transaction, where can you find help? Who hears your complaints?
Find out here

The Indian e-commerce industry has over recent times gained a great deal of popularity, which comes as no surprise owing to its ease of access. But along with this comes a greater need to protect the consumers fuelling the growth of this industry. As a consumer of any e-commerce site, you need to feel as protected and comfortable as you would while shopping at your favorite physical retail shops.

Since the Indian e-commerce industry is still in its infancy, there's cut throat competition amongst various online retailers, all vying for a piece