

BigFlix

We may not have Netflix or Hulu to watch video content online, but we do have BigFlix — a subscription-based service with apps for every major platform. It currently claims to have a library of over 2,000 movies to which you'll get complete access. It has Hindi, English and regional movies on offer. If you like something while browsing, the app can queue it for later viewing. The movies are in HD quality.

Price: Free app - subscription-based service

Link: <http://dgit.in/15bbZ7M>

TuneIn Radio

Sometimes we don't want to be in control of the music we want to listen to. At times like these, it's best to turn to good old radio. At times though, our phones don't come equipped with a radio app by default. Worry not, because there's an app for that. High-end smartphone users, who usually don't have the FM radio feature, can tune in too. TuneIn Radio has over 70,000 radio stations and millions of podcasts that you can tune in to and check out how people in other countries are experiencing their radio. There's music, sports, news, talk, and comedy streaming from every continent. Even our local 94.3 Radio

One or 91.1 Radio City are available.

Price: Free

Link: <http://dgit.in/1IKcak4>