

Blink

Blink for Windows Phone 8 is a great app for capturing the perfect shot. If you constantly complain about shaky and blurry images, Blink will fix this for you. Blink captures a burst of sequential images, before and after you've captured your shot. It then lets you select the perfect shot from these series of captured shots. Powered by Microsoft's advanced image stabilization technology, the Blink app eliminates the camera shake. Remember, the next time your hands get shaky, ensure you get a hold of the Blink app on your phone.

Viddy

This app claims to be the Instagram of video and its feature-set definitely reflects that. Viddy is one of the first few micro video-creating and sharing apps. The app essentially lets you capture 15-second videos and add filters and music to your clips. You can even apply vintage filters over your videos—just like Instagram does. Viddy is a great app for giving your videos a very cinematic feel. True to Viddy's slogan “Capture Life in the Moment”, the app lets you capture videos in fleeting moments and share them with your friends on social platforms such as Facebook, Twitter and Tumblr. Although the app was initially available only on iOS, Viddy is now available for free on Android as well.
