

Evernote

The one app that makes it easy to remember all things big and small from your everyday life using all your devices is the Evernote. It lets you sync all your data, remember things you like by letting you click snapshots and save favourite web pages for your perusal later. Be it collecting data for some research, sharing notes with friends or even planning your next trip – Evernote will help you with it all. You can create notes, take snapshots, creating recordings and even provides you with quick access to tags and places. The app deserves a thumbs-up for its attractive yet simple design, especially on Android. Evernote is an all-rounder, free and an awesome app to have on your phone.

Expensify

We know how difficult it is for you to leave that game of Temple Run 2 and work on taking care of your monthly expenses and receipts. Which is why, we suggest you get the free Expensify app on your phone. Expensify helps track your expenses, scan receipts and create expense reports using your phone, right as they happen. Once downloaded, the app lets you scan all your expense receipts and bills. You can add and categorize your expenses on the app. Expensify's SmartScan feature lets you maintain a digital copy of all your expense receipts and compile all your expenses into a report. The best feature of Expensify is that it's available for free across iOS, Android, Blackberry and Windows Phone.
