

LOCAL APPS

We tried over 30 apps to shortlist some of the best locally developed apps for use within India

‘Think global, act local’ was corporate India’s favourite catchphrase for quite some time. And looks like the Indian app developers have followed suit. One of the first things we do after buying a smartphone is download apps. And the reason behind is that these apps help us stay connected and informed, on-the-go. Now, app development is no longer a small-scale industry. Gone are the days when Indian apps used to display unimaginative designs and appeal. Most Indian app developers today primarily focus on creating apps that flaunt good graphic user interface and make life simpler for the average Indian. Also, an app is only as good as its functionality, especially if it lets you exploit your immediate vicinity to the fullest. Besides there’s a larger audience for locally aimed apps.

Whether it’s locating the nearest coffee shop, stumbling across great deals, booking air tickets, movie tickets or even finding out what’s playing on your favourite TV channel – there are Indian apps that will address all your local needs. So what we essentially have here is a list of the must-have Indian apps that’ll help you discover your neighborhood better.
