

RunPee

We've all had that moment when we're watching our favourite movie and we're contemplating that visit to the washroom. And this is because we're debating if we'll miss out on something important while we'll be away on our business. RunPee is an app that ends that internal debate. This crazy app tells you the best times you can run and pee during a movie. And in case you can't hold on, each pee time gives you a synopsis of what happened in the movie while you were gone. Get the RunPee app because when you got to go, you got to go.
