

Pimple Popper

Our assumption is that it takes a really twisted mind to develop a weird and gross app like this one. The name of the app tells you exactly what the app does. The app allows you to pop a virtual pimple by squeezing and pressing it until it purges. To make things a little more disturbing, the app even has sound effects for cause and effect. As disgusting as it may seem, chances are that you might get addicted to this Pimple Popper app in the same way you've been obsessing over that unwanted zit on your chin.

Ugly Meter

Ugly Meter is absolutely ridiculous, wicked and borderline funny at the same time. Here's how the app works – It snaps your picture, scans your face and rates your ugliness on a scale of 1 to 10 where 10 is the ugliest and 0 means you're a sexy beast. And that's not where all the nastiness ends. The Ugly Meter also has nasty quips to go with your ratings like, "You're so hot that you make the sun jealous" or "You're so ugly, you could make a glass eye cry". So why should you get the Ugly Meter? Sadistic pleasure is the answer, unless you have self-esteem issues to deal with.
