

Get full screen browsing

Safari's interface is made minimal so that web page utilizes most of the area on the screen. But tilting the device into landscape more will disappear the interface and you'll get an elegant full screen browsing experience. To get back the interface just scroll the page upward.

Rotate your device into landscape mode for full screen browsing

Add website to the favourite page

Whenever you add a new tab, a page called 'Favourites' is displayed that contains quick links to your favourite websites. If you visit a website too often add its link to this page and access is quickly. To do it go to Safari > Open the website > Tap 'Share' button > Bookmarks > Location > Favourites > Save.

Use autofill in Safari

Safari can autofill web forms by using your contact information, passwords and credit cards if you wish to. Auto fill information can be setup from Settings > Safari > Passwords & AutoFill.

Search within the address bar

Safari adds another neat feature to make your surfing experience even better. Gone is the Google search field; your address bar is your new search field. Just type in your context in the address bar and you'll get the results right there followed by Bookmarks and History.
