

BITCOINS IN INDIA

As the rest of the world deals with the impact of the rise of digital currencies, India is not far behind. We take a look at the equation of Bitcoin with India.

Over the past couple of years the potential of Bitcoin as a virtual currency as well as a trading security have attracted many Indians - both business' and individuals. The Indian Bitcoin community is estimated to be anywhere between 30,000 to 50,000 people strong and growing. As more and more people begin taking part in this new economy the government has also taken interest and started
