

University of Michigan

The University of Michigan was founded in 1817 as a public college, this was 20 years before the Michigan Territory officially became a state. The university focuses heavily on research activities and has doctoral programmes in Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics, social sciences and humanities, and offers professional degrees in dentistry, medicine, law and social work.

The University of Michigan has some famous alumni who have become actors, astronauts, Nobel Laureates, politicians, Publishers, sportsperson, writers, and much more. Some of them are Actress Lucy Liu; Astronaut Edward H. White (first US spacewalk); Businessman Richard (Dick) Costolo (CEO of Twitter), Nobel Laureate Marshall W. Nirenberg; and many more

The free courses are available for literature, science, arts, architecture, urban planning, business, dentistry, education, engineering, information, law, medical, music, theatre, and dance, nursing, pharmacy, public health, public policy and social work.

The course is available in various formats which includes text, presentations and iTunes videos.

Course Access Link: <http://open.umich.edu/education>

Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health

The Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health (JHSPH) was founded in 1916 and is a part of The John Hopkin University in the United States. It is the largest public health training facility in the United States and offers degrees for research and training in public health. Currently, it has its research going on in around 130 countries around the globe. If you want to study about disease and injury prevention then the free courses offered by JHSPH should definitely be on your list.

JOHNS HOPKINS
BLOOMBERG SCHOOL of PUBLIC HEALTH