

digit diary

If you are ever curious about what the Digit gang is up to, this is the place to get all the inside info. From the latest game we're obsessing about to the newest intern we're driving up the wall – it's all here folks.

The month started off with an overly excited discussion about mechanical keyboards that soon degraded into a keyboard measuring contest about who types the most in a month. To settle score, a la the nerdy way, it was decided by the Digit High-Council to install

Rank	User	Keys	Clicks	Downloaded
1	raaabo (F)	514,436	99,210	81.22GB
2	babumshaaye (M)	280,614	54,711	96.66GB
3	edensjoker ★	183,768	38,618	29.75GB
4	Aditya.Madanapalle ★	162,819	43,515	16.17GB

WhatPulse. Raaabo being at the top was no surprise thanks to his uncontrollable Facebook and minesweeper addiction. Yes, our 40-year old follically challenged leader spends more time on the social media website than most teens and here's the evidence. P.S. - He also re-writes most of everyone else's writing.

Abhijit came in a close second but we all know he probably installed a macro to game the system. Mithun being the Paranoid Android, refused to install WhatPulse with the belief that he'd be 'willingly giving away his passwords'. Or maybe he was afraid of being outed for his insane download volumes. His paranoia surprisingly disappeared as he gave away all his info to the local pizza-wala when they came knocking with pizza coupons. It might appear that the cure for paranoia is pizza, and lots of it. Or perhaps he is a miser, after all he and Abhijit went and saw Black Panther twice in theaters because they'd both purchased tickets separately and didn't want the money going to waste.

This month it wasn't Abhijit, Mithun, Manish or Aditya that gamed a lot, it was in fact, Raaabo who spent an inordinate amount playing minesweeper and Fallout 4. He played so much that he has developed a super-multi-combo of RSI that includes carpal tunnel and cubital tunnel syndrome – just another thing he will be bragging about on social media this month. Oh, and Arnab went ga-ga over Assassin's Creed Origins. The boy was spotted before 11:30 am and after 6:30 pm in the office, which is a rarer than spotting an exotic South-African Needle-Nose Baboon doing the Sunday Times crossword and sipping a cup of tea!

Lastly, the Digit Test Centre was transformed into an arts-and-crafts store as everyone went nuts building DIYs from cardboard and what not. Key failures include Aditya's 5th radio circuit, Mithun's basic coin sorter and Manish's true-to-scale handgun. Why failures? Well, the guys took a hit to their egos when they flopped, and have vowed to get them working again. We're taking bets people, 10:1 odds against them bombing again.

DISCUSSIONS

Every month we will highlight some of the more interesting discussions happening on our Digit Forum (digit.in/forum). Head over and join our forum if you want quick answers to your queries from some of the geekiest Indians online. In case you love giving gyaan, or even if you love arguing with others, the Forum is the place you should be.

What jobs should AI take away?

<http://digit.in/AIpls>

This is not about existing, functional AI, but when the real AI actually comes along. Ideas thrown about include entry point staff in government offices, courier delivery agents, and politicians.

TV Shows and Miniseries Discussions

<http://digit.in/tvttalk>

The hot topic of discussion is Altered Carbon, the sci-fi series distributed by Netflix where humans are essentially immortal, and slip into new "sleeves" when their physical bodies die.

Cryptocurrency miners in YouTube ads

<http://digit.in/ytminer>

Cryptocurrency miners were discovered in YouTube ads, that used up system resources without the user being aware. The ads shown on YouTube mined Monero using JavaScript.
