

THE FEATURE PHONE MARKET IS GROWING²

Don't write off the humble feature phone just yet. In Q4 2017, feature phone shipments saw a sequential (compared to the previous quarter) growth of 36% and a yearly growth of 62%. The smartphone market actually recorded a sequential decline of 19%.

THE JIOPHONE HELPED FEATURE PHONES SELL²

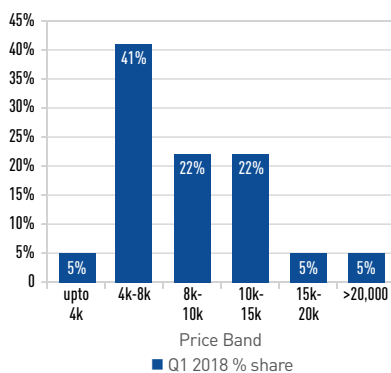

"LYF's JioPhone was major growth driver for 4Q CY2017. Its shipments grew more than five-fold in 4Q. This new trend led to surge in market share of feature phones. With local manufactured JioPhones hitting the market in coming quarters, the vendor is expected to better its performance"

-Narinder Kumar, Analyst, CMR-IIG

MOST OF THE SMARTPHONES SOLD COST LESS THAN ₹10,000²

A massive 68% of the smartphones, that do get sold in India, are priced lower than ₹10,000

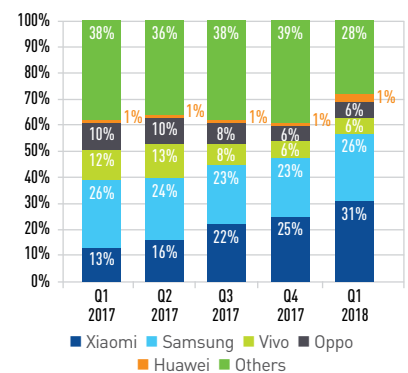

Q1 2018 % SHARE VS. PRICE BAND

CHINESE BRANDS SELL THE MOST SMARTPHONES³

57% of all shipments in Q1 2018 were of Chinese smartphones

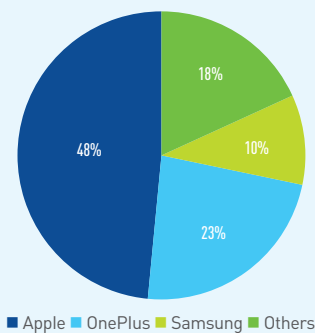

INDIA SMARTPHONE SHIPMENTS MARKET SHARE

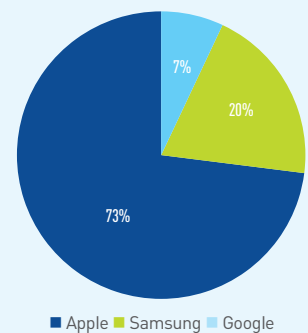

APPLE IS THE HIGHEST SELLING PREMIUM SMARTPHONE BRAND²

In Q4 2017, Apple sold 48% of the smartphones in the premium segment and a staggering 73% of the smartphones in the super premium segment.

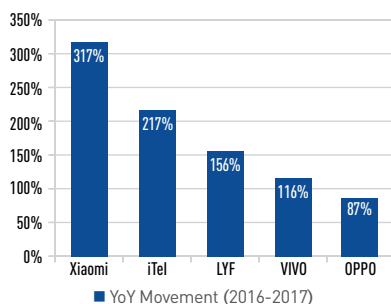

PREMIUM SMARTPHONES (₹26K-50K)

SUPER PREMIUM SMARTPHONES (₹50K+)

BIGGEST WINNERS

WINNERS AND LOSERS

Xiaomi, Vivo and Oppo all saw an increase in sales. Xiaomi saw an astonishing 317% increase in year on year shipments. iTel and LYF are in the list primarily because of their feature phone offerings. The brands that suffered the most are HTC and Asus.

BIGGEST LOSERS

