If you are ever curious about what the Digit gang is up to, this is the place to get all the inside info. From the latest game we're obsessing about to the newest intern we're driving up the wall – it's all here folks.

September is when the festival season begins for the folks in Mumbai and when it's festival season, you know there are going to be a lot of online sales. This time around, we've seen a lot of these karaoke speakers popping up on our recommended lists. All the amateur singing contests on TV are finally taking effect and we're about to see a surplus of kalakaars. We weren't going to be left behind and promptly called for a few such speakers to test them out. Who knows, we might even have a budding singer amidst the guys. A diamond in the rough, perhaps? Alas, that turned into more of a 'needle in the haystack' as it became pretty clear that we had no singing talent in our ranks. The ear-drum scraping, gut wrenching and nauseating voice of one team member shall forever remain undisclosed. Just the mere thought of that day is enough to induce PTSD.

News from across the ocean – Raaabo is moving to another house, so he's been indisposed for most of the month. Moving residences is not something that any person looks forward to. The packing, cleaning, moving, unpacking, cleaning and whatever else is involved becomes too much. Every night he'd vent on the WhatsApp group about how he has way too much stuff and would rather adopt a more minimalist approach to living life. We'd like to see how much of his gadgets he's willing to throw away.

Arnab's been ordering a lot of stuff these days. Every week there'd be a huge shipment in the lobby with his name plastered on it. One would assume that Arnab was getting new furniture for his place. By the looks of the packaging, it seemed that he bought a four-chair table along with a small stool but we were wrong. Not about the furniture part, but about the intended recipient. Turns out, all of it was for his cat. Yes, Arnab has a cat who's kinda outgrown his baby bed and he's getting an upgrade in the form of a fully decked out cat-tree-post-doubled-decker-mansion. We clearly know who wears the pawnts in this relationship.

All in all, this month has been a rather uneventful one.

The Pani Puri runs

It started off with Aditya claiming to know a Pani Puri seller who gave 7 golgappas for 12 bucks. Mithun called bull$h17 and asked to see this charitable Pani Puri wallah. While the team didn't get 7 golgappas for 12 bucks, they've certainly got addicted to the spicy snack and can be seen at a different chaat seller every evening these days.

Manish Money Bags

Manish has hit it big in Guild Wars 2 with a random item roll netting him one of the rarest items in the game. The very next day, his greed or rather lack of self-control got him another of the same drop. Apparently, this is the most gold he's made in the last 3 years of playing GW2. In case anyone wants to hack his account, his IGN is Kraven.

Comic-kazi

Abhijit has embarked on a comic buying spree. Tired of reading articles on a screen, Abhijit has taken the plunge and started on his journey towards becoming a 'collector'. He's grabbing the must-haves right now and hasn't gotten into the more esoteric stuff. Don't know if his wallet is going to like this new hobby of his.
