

These are the home worlds of aliens from science fiction or conspiracy theories, and some of them are from real habitable exoplanets identified by scientists on Earth

Aditya Madanapalle | aditya@digit.in

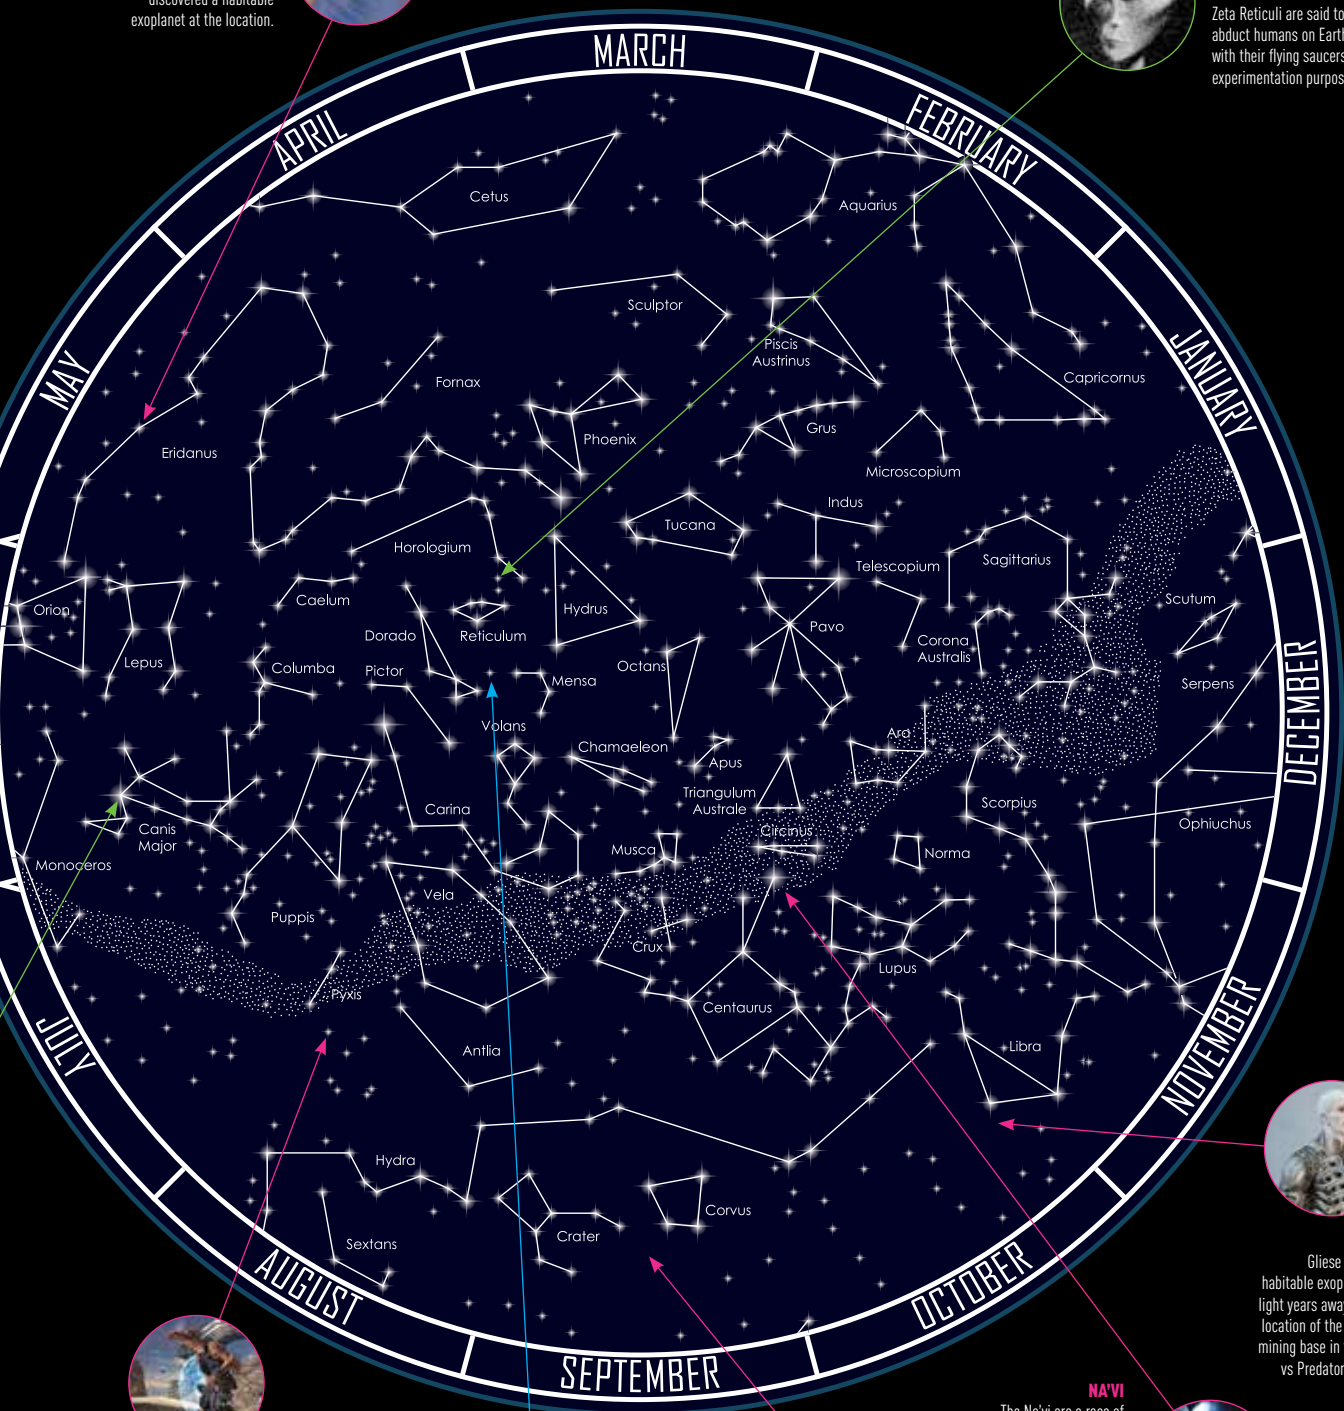

VULCANS

The Vulcans from Star Trek are from a homeworld orbiting 40 Eridani A, and astronomers recently discovered a habitable exoplanet at the location.

THE GREYS

The Greys can be considered archetypal representations of ETs. These aliens from Zeta Reticuli are said to abduct humans on Earth with their flying saucers for experimentation purposes.

COVENANT JACKALS

The Kig-Yar or the Covenant Jackals from Halo have their homeworld in a habitable exoplanet known as HD 69830 d.

KREE

The Kree are a technologically advanced race that play a big role in the Marvel Universe, and originate from a planet in the large magellanic cloud.

KRYPTONIANS

Superman's home world orbits a red dwarf star known locally as Rao, and as LHS-2520 or Gliese 3707 to astronomers on Earth.

NA'VI

The Na'vi are a race of tall blue humanoids, who have a deep spiritual connection with their living moon, Pandora, located at Alpha Centauri A, which is a part of a triple star system.

AVP

Gliese 581 d is a habitable exoplanet 20.4 light years away. It is the location of the Unity City mining base in the Aliens vs Predator universe.