Send your feedback at editor@digit.in that was awesome, but after some time that shows some errors and finally I lost all my software ammos required for hacking. I am big fan of hacking, and I got my hands dirty with programming & hacking all because of Digit.

There is always disturbance in Kashmir, so there is always shutdown and banning of the Internet services, which made our education hard. Unfortunately I am not a rich guy to afford broadband or any Government internet services. Team Digit is my family, that's why I shared every problem happening with me.

You've done it again. Yet another awesome issue. Some of the things that I liked:

1. dmystify on ANTIMATTER. Amazing. Really appreciated it.
2. Conlangs, especially wakandan, along with some of our favourite aliens from SciFi movies and shows.
3. REWIND along with the review on Infinity war. I was just waiting for your review. Thank you.
4. Zero1 awards were great. They helped me buy my laptop.
5. Fast track to Building AR apps. Gotta try it after boards.
6. That Red dead redemption 2 poster was great.
I would like to suggest:
1. Please do not discontinue the DVD. It is very difficult for to download anything over 500MB. Internet in my area is really slow.
2. Skoar and dviC could be included inside Digit.
3. You can make a Marvel/Dc issue sometime. It would be a great issue for Marvel and Dc fans.
4. Links could be improved as well.
By the way, thank you guys. You all are really amazing.

idea is great, and although not really our cover story style, perhaps we can make it a book for one month as a DVD replacement (I'm joking! Chill!). We will try and do a large feature on it sometime. What did you mean by "Links could be improved", are you meaning the snippet URLs that are on the top of the page? If so, yes, we took the advice from Paras last month and changed the URL structure to make it easier to type into a browser. Let us know what you think.

Hi, Team Digit (I pardon for my writing and grammatic typos and English weakness) my all life mentor in computer science and newer innovation in technology. It not only gives me latest info, but feeds me a ton of new mind-blowing English words that bolsters my speaking day-by-day up. I am from Kashmir, India. I'm a die-hard reader of the Digit mag since I was in 12th standard. Honestly, this mag really changed the whole scenario of my techno life. I am fanboy of Linux distros, and I thank you from the bottom of my heart that you packaged a Linux distro with every magazine issue. But what I wanna say is that could you please pack a BackTrack full version or Parrot Operating Systems with next issue? In your one of the older issues you packed a Kali Linux lite d Hi Sohail, first of all, please never be embarrassed by a lack of fluency in English or any other language. While it is nice to learn a language properly, and a lot of our readers write in to tell us that they are not only learning about tech, but also English and writing styles via our magazine... by no means are we expecting everyone to be writers. You would code circles around me, and your understanding of machine language is far more useful and much harder to master than mere English.

Coming back to your letter, we will certainly try and include a security-oriented Linux distro. We will also try and do a few more articles on hacking in upcoming issues as well, so keep an eye out for those. We will certainly try our best to make up for your lack of an internet connection. I also suggest that you read my column this month, and make sure to participate in the survey. I think you're definitely going to be voting for the DVD.

Something has been happening on YouTube: a subscriber war between Felix Kjellberg (commonly known as "PewDiePie") and T-Series. PewDiePie who has been the top subscriber on YouTube since 2013 is soon to be pushed second by India's T-Series.

Things started to change when PewDiePie started to make 'memes' of the fact that he going to be surpassed

d If Robert gets his way, the DVD certainly will be history. Make sure to read his column and make sure to participate in the survey. The Marvel/DC
