I'm from Chennai, and I've been reading Digit since 2001. I have all copies of the mag, and even if I missed out on any from the book-stall, I buy them online. Please provide us with a Fast Track to Data Science, and also Machine Languages, as they're in high demand as careers now.

-Muneer Basha

Hi Muneer, we will certainly try and do at least one of those in 2019.

-Mithun

Hi Digit, I am very old reader of your magazine. I missed quite a few issues in 2018, and I would like to buy them. How can I do that?

-Sanjeev Singh

You can choose to buy them online from <https://store.digit.in/store/> or you can also write in to help@digit.in and see if they can offer you a further discount if the issue you want is more than 6 months old.

I have been a long subscriber of this mag since 2001! I still have all the CDs and DVDs you people earlier used to distribute in a cd case. And this is my first letter to you guys. From gaming to hardware, this is the only mag of it's kind which keeps us up to date. I have a few suggestions:

1. It is ridiculous that for a very long time you people are not changing your pose or style in the intro pages. Yeah try out some cool different styles with colour so we can see what you look like now (or if Robert has grown some hair!)

2. If you stop the DVD send us micro sd cards instead.
3. You should expand the digit diary section and mention the latest games you are playing right now (especially on that PS4 in ur lab).
4. Your download page (the one you guys usually mention in the Fast Track cover page) does not seem to work.
5. Please provide better games as not every indie games is cool.

-Avinash Upadhyay

I haven't grown any hair, nature makes that impossible :-). We will try and implement your suggestions.

Letter of the Month

Hello there Digitians! My name is Nayan, and I've just started 11th standard. I started reading Digit from Oct. 17, and the best technology and gamerz magazine got me hooked. I am writing to you guys for some suggestions as to how to make your already great magazine even more awesome.

1. Please make your magazine pages less glossier. It is impossible to read directly beneath my study lamp.
2. For the nth time, get the gaming posters back again.
3. I know I am no one to judge this but.... Can you increase the sense of humour on your articles?.
4. The games you include in the DVD: you provide around 7-8 of them on average, but for me they are just useless, couldn't you give us better games? Even a single good game setup is enough.
5. I am an anime geek and found very little considerable info regarding Anime on Digit. Please provide more of those Anime columns. And also why not give away Anime episodes in your DVDs.
6. I found the ₹600 off Paytm voucher code thing in this month's edition and my joy literally knew no bounds as I wanted to purchase a new wireless headphone. After I selected a decent one I proceeded to the payment and entered the code provided. Everything went fine till then. I wanted to confirm it with my father so I just saved it to my wish list and then later that day when I tried ordering it I entered the code once again, but it said the code was already used! Please tell me a way to fix that thing or is it too late?.

7. Last, but not least, I would like you to reduce the spelling mistakes. I would love to see the No. 1 Indian Tech, Science and Gaming Magazine be even better. I love playing computer games and long to be a game designer. Would look on to your support in future for career guidance and help. By the way I loved Dhriti's work, especially the Pokemon article which brought back my childhood memories.

-Nayan Panda

Thanks for taking the time to send us such detailed feedback Nayan.

- 1) Changing paper is very hard, but let me see what we can do to make things more readable.
- 2) Our survey feedback indicates that people want more geek posters. We will do gaming and geek both.
- 3) We will certainly try to make you laugh more.
- 4) Full games are usually not allowed, but we will try and get some in the future.
- 5) Will ask some of the younger members to write more about this. I'm too old for this :-)
- 6) They're single use only I'm afraid, and in their system that counted as being used.
- 7) Yes, we will try our best. Dhriti will hopefully join us full time soon, so you have more articles from her to look forward to.

-Robert
