Superior multimedia experience

While the iPad Pro already is a great device to watch video content, there are four woofers and four tweeters at the corners. Looks like watching movies and binging on TV shows is going to be a fun experience.

Pull tabs and adhesive

Batteries are either glued down to the frame or secured using pull tabs. The iPad Pro uses both. The battery on the left is held down with a strong adhesive while the one on the right uses six pull tabs. Not a problem to remove with the appropriate set of tools.

Apple Pencil charging

On one side you will find a dark oval that charges the Apple Pencil. The Copper charging coils and the board are present on the inside but removing it once means damage, as capacitors fall out of it.

Face ID camera

With the departure of the home button from the iPad Pro for that uniform bezel design, in comes Face ID. It uses the same set of components from the hardware of the iPhone X including the IR dot projector, selfie camera and IR camera. However, the design and form factor are different.
