

TikTok

TikTok your way to the top with these tips and tricks

Dhriti Datta |
dhriti@digit.in

UNLESS YOU'RE LIVING UNDER A SIZEABLE ROCK, there's no way you haven't stumbled across a TikTok video, be it on Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, YouTube or TikTok itself. TikTok either incites some sort of inherent dislike towards the app and the short characteristic videos it features or instantly gets you addicted to these short-form videos, whether it is watching them or creating your own. Either way, you cannot ignore the phenomenon TikTok has become by soaring to heights, bit by bit, ever since its humble beginnings back when it was called Musical.ly. You can recreate a dance routine, come up with your own comic skit, lip-sync to a song, portray TV or film characters, and much more on this app.

TikTok currently has about 20 million active users in India and the numbers are going up steadily. It is an extremely dynamic platform with a plethora of content that ropes in young smartphone users and does very well keeping them there. Let's look at some TikTok tips and tricks that can help you navigate through some of the lesser-known features of the app and produce striking content.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT METHOD TO RECORD

It is extremely essential to have a clear vision of what you want your finished product to look like in TikTok before starting to record, since adequate preparation and thought put into the

A pop socket will ensure that your phone is stable and safe while recording video can be the difference between a shoddy video and a great one. For example, if you are dancing to a song, chances are that you will have to set up a timer and a tripod to get the best shot. In many videos, the angle at which you record can make or break it, single it can actually add uniqueness to what would otherwise be a mundane video. Also, if you are recording yourself with the selfie camera, make sure you use a pop-socket since it keeps your smartphone safe and aids in stability.

DOWNLOAD SOMEONE'S VIDEO

Ever found a video on TikTok that is all kinds of hilarious or wondrous and you keep wanting to watch it over and over again? Downloading TikTok videos for offline viewing and sharing them across multiple apps is quite simple. In order to do this, go to the video you want to store on your phone's memory then tap on the Share icon which appears on the right side of the screen. In this way you can directly share this video to an app you use often, such as Facebook, Instagram, or WhatsApp. However, to download this video to watch in times when the internet connection is unstable, just tap on the Save Video option in the same menu.

Alternatively, you can also stop someone from downloading your own videos on TikTok. Tap on the profile icon in the navigation bar of the app and then click on the ellipses (...) in the top right of the screen. Select 'Privacy and Safety', then tap 'Allow Download' and choose 'Off'. Unfortunately, this feature

Turn 'Allow Download' off to stop others from downloading your videos