

digit diary

If you are ever curious about what the Digit gang is up to, this is the place to get all the inside info. From the latest game we're obsessing about to the newest intern we're driving up the wall – it's all here folks.

It's dead, it's finally dead! The Minecraft craze that took over the degenerates of the office had finally run its course at the beginning of the month with Dhriti left as the only player on our world. She's been eyeing all the precious resources that Manish and Mithun had gathered at their bases ever since the two stopped playing. Manish seems to have dived into Borderlands 3 whereas Mithun kept shuffling between Gears 5 and World of Tanks. Yes, that World of Tanks which he and an unnamed fellow used to play seven years ago.

If you've been reading the diary for a few months now, you'll have probably noticed how Aditya tends to play just Warframe and nothing else. Not this month, oh no, the lad has finally opened up to the massively open and myriad world of games that exist outside of Warframe. He has been playing The Witcher 3, Borderlands 2, Star Wars Racer, Road Redemption and a few other games. Not that he's found a replacement for Warframe, but seeing his Steam notification pop up in the friend's list as playing something other than Warframe was quite a refreshing change.

He even approached the others to sign up for an Azul Tournament out of the blue. Such a drastic change in the span of one month seems a little odd. That guy's definitely up to something!

The Association of Jobless Persons shall perform a thorough investigation and get to the bottom of this. More shall be revealed next month.

Earlier in the month, Manish fell sick like he usually does every two or three months. Except, this time the young lad actually ended up in the hospital delirious with high fever. He was out of there in the matter of two days after having promised the docs to shape up. You see, he's been on a strict diet of chips and cola, and that finally caught up with him now that he's in his late 20s. Old age doesn't agree with the carefree lifestyle that Manish had been living and now he has to pay for his sins by getting onto a diet of ... nasty greens. Everything from Waldorf to Caesar, from Fattoush to Gado-Gado, the dude's been trying all sorts of nasty salads to substitute his urge to consume chicken, albeit begrudgingly.

The end of the year is creeping up and everyone knows that it's time for Zero1. Soon, the entire office is about to be flooded with products from the world over and we might see a few more peeps in the test labs getting hospitalised but we'll pull through, like we always do.

QUOTE OF THE MONTH

"Existence, depression, yada yada"

- Manish on having to eat a nasty spinach wrap

DISCUSSIONS

Every month we will highlight some of the more interesting discussions happening on our Digit Forum (digit.in/forum).
